I want to make an anime searcher using the Jikan REST API. The purpose is to provide a simple way to search through all of the anime that exists. My audience is any anime watcher, but mainly the older demographic of that audience by making it simple and easy to use. The main functionality I want to include is searching for anime with a description and image alongside sorting features, including rating, air date, and genre. If I have more time, I might include a sister website that can search for anime schedules based on the starter code.
